

EDEN TO RECEIVE ROOSEVELT'S IDEAS, INTERNAT'L STEPS

Will Be Conveyed to British Foreign Secretary By Ambassador Bingham

SCHEDULED FOR 3 P. M.

Not Instructed to Discuss the Possibility of International Conference

LONDON, Mar. 11—President Roosevelt's latest ideas concerning international, economic and political steps which might be taken to stem the Old World drift toward war, will be conveyed to British Foreign Secretary, Anthony Eden, today, by United States Ambassador, Robert W. Bingham.

The meeting, called by Bingham, will take place at three p. m. It was described by official American quarters as designed to enable the Ambassador to discuss the "general situation" following his return to London from the United States.

International News Service learned, however, that Bingham will convey President Roosevelt's latest views as outlined while the Ambassador was in Washington recently.

It was definitely ascertained, contrary to the tenor of the record, that the Ambassador will not convey any flat proposal for international peace for a disarmament conference.

Ambassador Bingham, it was learned, has received no instructions even to discuss the possibility of an international conference. Instead, it was revealed, he will convey "other ideas" to each—ideas which President Roosevelt had in mind when he conferred with the Ambassador by nature of a closely guarded secret here.

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 11—Advertising in a local newspaper today, Frank P. "Kolbe's, Special Notice—no Thursday forum this week—am paying my debt to society at the Bucks County Prison—I will see you March 18, 8 p. m. with a new and interesting subject."

Kolbe, who is 33 and married, gives lectures at a public forum in his store every Thursday, the night before his weekly auction.

In the same advertisement today, Kolbe further informs his readers that "Saturday, March 13, 7 p. m. will be a 'Coming Out Sale,' with lots of bargains and special prizes. That is the day he will be released from the Bucks County Prison upon completion of the sentence imposed by Justice of the Peace Irvin M. James here this week. Kolbe was prosecuted by an inspector of the State Department of Labor and Industry.

Although Mrs. Kolbe visited her husband in the County Prison and asked him to pay the fine and get out of prison, he refused, telling her that he is paying a debt to society. Kolbe is a graduate of Doylestown High, and one time rode across the United States on a bicycle.

Today is Anniversary Of the Blizzard of '88

Today marks the 49th anniversary of the start of the famous "Blizzard of '88."

When Bristol awoke this morning it was greeted by a blanket of snow, and the thought of many of the older residents reverted to what is commonly called "The Blizzard."

According to Green's History of Bristol, "In March, 1888, occurred one of the worst blizzards Bristol has ever known. Rain began to fall on Sunday morning and continued throughout the day and evening. Sometime during the night the shifting of the wind brought on a fierce snow storm, which increased in severity, the wind blowing a perfect gale. When our citizens awoke on Monday morning, they found the town literally buried under an avalanche of snow. In many places the snow drifts reached a height of 10 to 15 feet. Traffic on the railroad was blocked; the telegraph and telephone wires were down, and for two or three days the town was completely cut off from all outside communication."

HONOR COMES TO THOSE WHO WORK IN ELECTION; BABY BACKERS KEEP BUSY

Honors don't come to those who wait for them, but always to those who go out and work faithfully and that's the real reason hundreds are making the Favorite Baby election the most interesting enterprise this section has ever known.

Swinging along with the greatest enthusiasm yet to accompany a determined effort to find and crown the community's favorite baby in the "Shower of Cash" election, candidates now running into the scores are becoming massed for positions that only new entries and quick and decisive action of campaigners can change.

And don't think that new entries are not coming in. Tuesday's story on the progress of the election seemed to be just the tonic a great many late starters needed to bring them into their campaign stride. As a result, the editor's desk early in the day was covered with new entry blanks and pictures of the latest children to become a part of the country-wide election of a favorite.

Further, there is no reason why others should not get into the race today. With every possible honor to be won and nothing to bring loss or even disappointment, the candidates are taking the baby election as the greatest opportunity to get a fine start in life ever offered in the state. Think of the matchless honor of having your favorite baby crowned the COMMUNITY'S FAVORITE, of having established for it a valuable educational trust fund, of seeing it receive a handsome loving cup and of having it carry through life the consciousness of being truly the representative baby of Bristol and community.

The votes are rolling in for all the attractive campaigners. The community's people, patronizing the leading merchants, are clamoring for the ballots with which to further the standing of their respective favorites. In the newspaper the battle is always on for coupons appearing in the daily issues. Bristol and vicinity has never before witnessed such a spontaneous outbreak of interest and effort.

Some sections of the community are not as well represented as they should be. The election editor and everyone connected with the election desire that when the favorite is crowned he or she will truly be a representative of the whole field and not a part of it. So if your section is not getting the

POST OFFICE MAY BAR NEWSPAPERS FROM REPORTING SWEEPSTAKES

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11—Karl A. Crowley, solicitor of the Post Office Department, indicated this week that the government was about ready to start a campaign designed to bar from the mails, newspapers and publications containing reports of Irish Sweepstakes winners and other lottery activities now flooding the country.

Solicitor Crowley believes that the ban against sweepstakes publicity should apply to stories and pictures of winners. His announcement comes on the heels of an intensive drive by postal inspectors to break up both foreign and domestic lotteries based on race results, baseball and football games and other contests.

Should the department decide to outlaw the sweepstakes publicity and other similar projects announcement would come from Postmaster General James A. Farley and would amount to a return to the policy pursued by the Hoover administration.

Sensational Move 'Poppycock'

Washington, Mar. 11—A report published abroad that President Roosevelt is contemplating a sensational move in the field of world affairs, designed to pacify war-torn Europe, were dismissed today in the highest quarters here as so much "poppycock."

A British publication, "The Week," has even gone so far as to predict a move within a month on Mr. Roosevelt's part that will be "more sensational and more significant even than the Hoover moratorium of 1931." Probably nothing could be further from the truth.

Mr. Roosevelt's present inclinations where he is concerned is to let Europe stew in its own makings.

HIGH SCHOOL 'GYM' TEAM MEETS TEMPLE TONIGHT

Local Boys Will Try to Out-point Temple Freshmen On High School Floor

2ND MEETING OF TEAMS

(By Louis Tomlinson)

Bristol High School's District 1, P. 1. A. A. gymnastic champions swing into their brief schedule when they meet Temple University's Freshman team on the local high school floor tonight at eight o'clock.

This is the second time the two teams have met, last year being the first time they encountered each other on the apparatus and in which meet Temple Frosh came out on top, 33-21. In this meet, F.H. Pico, captain of the Cardinals, captured three firsts and a second out of five entries, thereby gaining 18 of the 21 points scored by his team. The other three resulted from Whitley McBride's second place on the rope climb—the only place in which Bristol placed two men.

Temple, on the other hand, took one-two-three places on the horizontal bar and the mats—the only places in which Bristol failed to place. However, Pico just missed a third in placing fourth. On the rings and parallel bars they placed two-and-three, while they took first and third on the side horse.

The meet will consist of work on six pieces—the parallel bars, horizontal bar, side horse, rings, tumbling, and rope climb.

Those who will compete for Bristol and Temple on the various pieces are:

BUSINESS CYCLE THEORIES

There are as many theories about the business cycle as there were before the depression reminded us that this periodic destroyer still is a real and earnest fact. One reason for the lack of agreement possibly is that most of the theories are more or less true. The unconquerable urge to reduce things to a few simple rules, authoritatively stated, thus may make for confusion as to this, as well as a great many other human problems.

One of the over-simplifiers is able Mr. John T. Flynn, who, writing in a national periodical informs us a new depression is on the way because prices are being forced up. Prices always have gone up in periods of recovery, but that does not bother Mr. Flynn, who thinks the price rise this time surely will dry up purchasing power and stop recovery in mid-course.

What is chiefly interesting about this statement is that its author is disloyal in it to the very theory of the business cycle, to which he himself subscribes. Mr. Flynn belongs to the school of thought which blames the cycle on artificial prices and profits and the consequent failure to distribute enough of the fruits of industry in the form of purchasing power. This mal-distribution results in over-saving, which results in a pressure of capital vainly seeking useful investment, which results in reckless financial practices, which bring on the crisis and the collapse of the boom.

However, the collapse, even under this theory, does not last forever. In the ensuing depression much of the surplus capital vanishes in liquidation. Over-saving begins again almost at once, but also opportunities for useful investment now commence to open up. In the depression capital goods have worn out and need replacing. Investment has been busy and demand arises for new kinds of goods. Industry expands, and in so doing creates new purchasing power, which, for the time being, overcomes the tendency to over-save.

Apparently Mr. Flynn has overlooked this second half of his chosen theory. Merely because the late collapse and depression were unusually severe is no reason for suspending the theory's operation. Indeed an unusually prolonged depression should argue, under this theory, for an unusually prolonged prosperity to follow.

AN OLD, OLD GAME

Will a Spring ever come when boys will not play marbles? Probably not. Governments and constitutions and economic systems may change and even undergo revolution, but probably 5000 years from now, boys will be playing marbles just as they do now.

The various games played with marbles constitute one of the oldest sports in the world. The game is practically universal today, played in all lands. Something about the little rolling spheres fascinates the young mind everywhere. Very few boys pass through the youngster age without a period when they contend at this game.

During recent years efforts have been made by various organizations for youth, to systematize this sport. Contests in marble playing have been held, with great numbers of boys contending for marble championships. The game is used to teach boys lessons of fair play.

BRISTOL FIVE TO BOWL IN A. B. C. TOURNAMENT

By Louis Tomlinson

Bristol for the first time in the history of its bowling career, will have several representatives in the biggest event of the year in the ten-pin sport—the world famous and international A. B. C. Tournament. The reason that Bristol has never before had an entry in the tourney is because they heretofore hadn't joined the circles of the American Bowling Congress until this year. Only teams and leagues belonging to this organization can enter the famous tournament.

And the honor of being the first team ever to represent Bristol in the renowned tournament goes to Felix Tomlinson's Jefferson A. C. five. Not only will they be the first Bristol team to participate in the A. B. C.'s but they will also have the honor of being the first rollers from Pennsylvania to take part in the gigantic tourney which will last until May 4 when the winner will be decided. The first contingent of over 20,000 bowlers will get underway tonight at the 212 Field Artillery Armory, 62nd and Columbus avenue, New York. The local aggregation will roll the third of the four sets at the same alleys tonight at 10:00. They will leave from the Bristol station tonight on the P. R. R. at 6:43 and arrive in New York at about eight o'clock.

The opposition which the Jefferson outfit will encounter is an aggregation known as the Edgar-Diner from Linden, N. J., and who are, we understand, quite a fast team from that section. However the Bristol boys are sure to give their opponents a good battle at any rate, but more than that they expect to come home with the well known "bacon" for the morrow for they are confident of victory.

Jefferson A. C. belongs to the American League of the Recreation Alleys and in the first half they were just nosed out of first place by one game by Elks. To date in the second half they are in third place. This league is the next highest in Bristol with the Bristol League as the class AAA of the borough.

KOVERLY BATTLES LITTLE WOLF TO DRAW AT ARENA

TRENTON, N. J., Mar. 11—Emulating two bulls in a battle of death, Chief Little Wolf and George (Cry-baby) Koverly locked horns in the feature bout at the Arena last night to gore and butt one another for some 31 minutes only to have Referee Tom Parsonett declare the bout a draw.

The bout was one of the wildest seen here in many a moon and had the gallery standing on its feet throughout most of the time. Tossing caution to the winds and ignoring the referee entirely to say nothing of their flagrant abuse of the laws of wrestling, the principals played each other with forearm blows and used their knees with telling effect.

BOWLING RESULTS

In the Bristol League, the Elks won three of the four points from Burlington. Shumard of Burlington was high with a total of 553 and Kelly had 542 for the Elks.

In the American League, J. A. C. won three of the four points from the Ramblers, Harry Kendig hitting the maples for 601 and Sammy Dixon 542 for the Ramblers.

In the National League, Morrisville won three of the four points from Rohm & Haas. Rigby had 489 for Morrisville and Schreiber 473 for Rohm & Haas.

tivities Chairman Thomas Ross. The increase in railroad rates makes it necessary to add two dollars to the earlier estimate as to the amount it will cost each Scout, Seascout and Leaders. Transportation will be from Doylestown by Reading Railroad with meals to and from Washington eaten on the train.

Instead of having the preliminary training camp in Bucks County, it is to be conducted at Washington to give everyone three additional days in the National Capital, making a total of 13. Scout Executive William F. Livermore has been assigned to the Regional Exhibit committee, and will be responsible for the delegations from Easton, Allentown, Bethlehem, and Bucks County.

"Bucks County Council is within one per cent of equaling the National averages of National Headquarters," reported Judge Hiram H. Keller, Chairman of the Court of Honor Committee. Recently, the advancements have been 55 second class, 28 first class, 112 merit badges, 11 star scouts, two life scouts, three eagle palms, and five eagle scouts.

The arrangements for the 10th Council meeting of the council in the court room were discussed by Educational Chairman Dr. A. J. Strathie. The program will include a business session from 7:30-8:00 in court room No. 2 with movies for all others in court room No. 1. Starting promptly at eight p. m., and concluding at 10 p. m., there will be a monster portrayal of the work of the Council committees staged in eight acts. Packs, Troops and Ships from the entire Council Area will mobilize for this event to take part in the exhibitions.

The financial campaign only reached 72 per cent of the need, and certain services to the units will have to be curtailed. This is unfortunate, as the effort has been to reach 1500 boys and cannot be done with the present available funds. Finance Chairman Edmund H. Lovett announced the Scouting Banquet income equalled the expenditures, and the books of the council were audited and found correct.

Comments from the District Board meetings were presented by Chairman: Walter W. Pitzonka (Bristol), Edmond H. Lovett (Yardley), and Paul R. Sine (Perkasie). The Legion Conference in Philadelphia on Scouting was presented in detail by Mr. Sine. Through the Camp Committee, Chairman Edward W. Fell, arrangements are being made with the Henry Palmer heirs for the construction of a suitable memorial. Arthur M. Eastburn and Thomas Ross, the trustees, have accepted one of the suggestions submitted by the Camp Committee. Scout Executive Livermore presented studies of the advancement and membership condition. Membership is growing—Lower Bucks District (District Commissioner Herbert A. Pettit, Sr.) has reached 112 per cent, two other Districts are within six per cent of going "over the top," and the three other Districts close to their objective.

will represent the school at the meet. Suggestions on dramatics, science and art were also discussed at the meeting. Miss Doris, of Falls Township, is in charge of the art; Eldon Sowers, of Lower Makefield schools, dramatics, and Bennett Strait, science. Under dramatics, a play, "Three Pills in a Bottle," will be directed by Miss Margaret Lehman, Doylestown, and under science there will be exhibitions of work done by the pupils. Any pupil making worthwhile contributions to the study of science may enter his or her work.

The Music Festival, under the direction of the Bucks County Inter-Scholastic Association, will be held at Doylestown, Friday, April 2, and the athletic meet at Sellersville-Perkasie, Saturday, May 15.

cated entirely within the same county. He explained: "In consolidating the boroughs of Telford and West Telford a perplexing situation is created in regard to the justices of the peace, in that the two boroughs are located in different counties. It would be awkward to have a justice of the peace from Montgomery County empowered with jurisdiction in Bucks County."

Republican Senate leader Clarence J. Buckman, Bucks, spent the greater portion of Monday evening on his feet. . . First incident to move the legislator from his front row seat was the calling up of Senate Bill No. 1 for final passage. . . Bearing the GOP whip's signature, the measure would have the Highways Department bear the damage expenses incident to the relocation of state highways. When it came up for third reading a move was made to recommit it to committee "because an administration measure, to be introduced, would probably contain the same provisions". . . After a brilliant but futile plea for passage, by Senator Buckman, the bill was tossed back into the Highways Committee possibly for a "pickling" treatment.

No sooner had the Republican legislative strategist regained his seat when he saw fit to oppose passage of a Democratic measure. . . Taking the floor again he succeeded in having a bill sponsored by Sen. Thomas Kilgallen, D. Allegheny, held over for future consideration. . . It was proposed to give Pittsburgh police powers exceeded only by the State Police, Buckman said. . . Buckman argued this was unwarranted in that it gave the Pittsburgh police such powers over minor traffic violations that a local judiciary "fine racket" could easily result and be obstructive to traffic on some of the state's heaviest used highways. . . Kilgallen acceded to Buckman's request.

Among the measures which from all appearances are dying the slow "committee death" was the resolution introduced by Rep. Thomas Stockham, Bucks Republican, which would have the General Assembly memorialize President Roosevelt to grant Pennsylvania some $300,000,000 for flood control and water transportation purposes. . . The Bucks County member was told the proposal had been called up for action in Federal Relations Committee but deferred pending introduction of an administration-sponsored measure which would be along the same line. . . Also resting securely in committee these days is Sen. Clarence J. Buckman's bill to amend the intangible personal property tax law so taxes levied on estate trusts will be paid to the resident county of their creator rather than the county in which the trust is incorporated. . . Like Stockham, the Bucks County senator was informed the Revenue Department was contemplating a measure of its own which would likely remedy the ills his amendment aimed at.

Majority of the bills introduced thus far by Bucks-Montgomery solons are resting in various committees. . . and comparatively few of them are destined to see the light of a legislative day again. . . The reason, quite naturally, can be found in the Republican dominance of the two counties. . . With volumes of legislation on foot and two months of the session zone, seasoned observers agreed little other than the administration's "must" program would be written into Pennsylvania law.

It's our family's whiskey, neighbor—and neighbor, it's your price!

and this Family Recipe of ours!

My brother-in-law was just remarking to me the other day. Harry, he said—it looks like folks had found a long lost friend, the way they're acting about our Family's whiskey! And I guess in a way you might call The Wilken Family Whiskey a long lost friend at that! For our family has sure been at it a long long time—making whiskey for three whole generations. But we never put up this personal Family's Recipe of ours for everybody to enjoy till only just lately. And folks are taking to it like as if they'd never found a really mild and tasty whiskey in their whole life. And I guess the neighborly price being asked for our Family's whiskey is pleasing everybody pretty much too!

WILL REQUEST AID TO BUILD NEW SCHOOL

Solebury Plans to Drop Three Teachers Under The New Set-Up

ESTIMATES ARE GIVEN

SOLEBURY, Mar. 11—First steps toward providing Solebury township with a consolidated school were taken at a meeting of the school board a few days ago, when it decided to make application for W. P. A. funds.

In addition to this, the board, in view of the fact that only six teachers will be required in the new school, informed three of the teachers that in case the project materializes, their services will not be required. During this meeting another teacher submitted her resignation and as a result it will be necessary to engage one new teacher. At present the teaching staff of the township schools is composed of nine people.

The board has four sites in view and all are on the Old York road. One is on the property of Mrs. Josephine Brown, another on the Frederick B. Sanson property and two others are on the Boltz property.

Suggestion has been made that six acres of land be purchased, but the W. P. A. will give its assistance in the purchase of only four acres for school purposes and in case the board decides to purchase the six acres, it will be up to the taxpayers to bear the cost of the two additional acres.

The present school tax in the township is nine mills, but according to a member of the board, the rate may have to be raised to 12 mills with the erection of the school.

In attendance at the meeting of the directors a few days ago were representatives of the architectural firm of A. O. Martin & Son, Doylestown, and they presented plans for a six-room school building, and in addition presented approximate costs. Building of the school, it has been said, will result in the closing of all of the schools in the township. Approximately 165 children would be housed in the new building.

Members of the board have been in communication with County Superintendent J. H. Hoffman, Doylestown, and Dr. Lee Driver, Harrisburg, director of the rural school systems throughout the State. The School directors have also made an inspection of the new consolidated school at Edison and they have gathered valuable information from other sources.

Dr. Driver has informed the board that because the Stoney Hill school was re-opened after having been closed, the board had forfeited the right to collect the $200 given by the State for schools that have been closed.

Presenting their plans for a six-room building, the architects stated that a building can be erected for the township for approximately $36,000, but that if aid is received through the W. P. A., the cost will be approximately $7200 additional or $43,200. The W. P. A., it was stated, will bear 45 per cent of the cost, and this would mean that the taxpayers would have to raise approximately $23,000. If funds are available, the W. P. A. also furnishes the labor and the district the material.

Additional expenses in connection with the construction of the school have been listed as follows: purchase of lot, $2,000; fees of architect, $1800; legal fees, $200; advertising, $130, and furniture, $600.

The board proposes to float a $25,000 bond issue to mature in 30 years. This, it was stated, can be floated at a 2½ per cent interest rate. The assessed valuation of the district is $1,526,000. The board has made provision to pay a janitor $900 a year for his services and to pay the operators of two buses $125 each per month.

The board has also taken into consideration that the expenses in case of consolidation would be reduced by the employment of three less teachers. It also has pointed out that it will receive $1000 from the State for five schools closed. Fifteen pupils are attending schools in other districts and if a consolidated school were to be erected here, it would not have to pay for the tuition of these children. This amounts to $540 a year.

Noted Metropolitan Opera Star finds Luckies easy on her precious throat—

Marjorie Lawrence says:

"You must have a big voice to sing Wagner. My favorite role of 'Brunnhilde' in Wagner's 'Götterdämmerung' is a very exacting one. Yet—when I am back in my dressing room after I have finished singing, there is nothing I enjoy more than lighting up a Lucky. It is a light smoke—so gentle—so smooth—that it does not irritate my throat in the least. I agree with the others at the Metropolitan that a light smoke is a wise choice."

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Lawrence verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. PARENTS ARE ADVISED TO TREAT THEIR CHILDREN AS INDIVIDUALS

BOSTON, Mar. 11—(INS)—Treat your child as an individual what is normal for one child is abnormal for another.

This is the advice given parents by Dr. Henry E. Gallup.

Dr. Gallup, attached to the staffs of the Children's Hospital, the Faulkner Hospital, and the Harvard Medical School faculty, stated that parents are apt to pay too much attention to general information regarding children, forgetting that their children are individuals like themselves.

Touching especially on the health problem of the growing child, Dr. Gallup declared:

"What is good for one child is not good for another. Two children, born the same day, each weighing the same and having the same height, cannot be treated alike. There are bound to be marked differences and parents should find them by appraisal."

Dr. Gallup rapped forcing of children by parents over-ambitious for their offspring.

"Leave the youngsters alone when they are young. Don't try to cram them full of a thousand and one different activities. They are undergoing the most important period in their lives because they are growing."

Explaining the reason for this warning to parents, Dr. Gallup said:

"In their first years of existence the home structure of the body grows rapidly and the muscular system usually lags behind. Any physical exercise indulged in by the child should be well regulated and moderate because the youngster is not ready for more vigorous exercise."

Dr. Gallup asserted that in the first six years of a child's life, he gathers 90 per cent of his knowledge. The other 10 per cent of knowledge comes later in life, after the fundamentals have been instilled in the child's brain.

Coaxing children to eat their meals is a bad practice in Dr. Gallup's opinion.

"If the food is prepared and presented properly on the table and the child refuses to eat, there is only one thing to do—assume the take it or leave it attitude and keep your temper. Many children refuse to eat their meals, but demand dessert. Don't give them the dessert. Let them wait until the next meal and the chances are that they will have worked up an appetite healthy enough to eat everything."

MEXICO INVITED

MEXICO, D. F.—(INS)—Mexico was today officially invited to participate in the forthcoming Pan-American exposition. Dr. Roscoe Hill of the U. S.

Department of Commerce and Charles Abbott of the Exposition staff arrived here recently to interview the Foreign Minister, Eduardo Hay, about the Mexican exhibit at the fair, which will open on June 12 at Dallas, Texas.

SWEDISH INCOME RISES

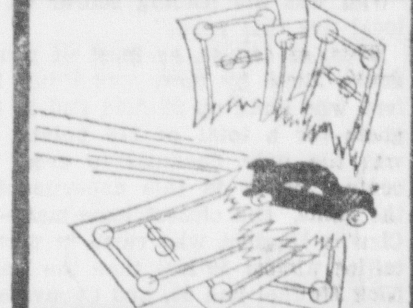

STOCKHOLM—(INS)—The real income of the Swedish government during the first half of the current budget year, July-December, 1936, amounted to 530,200,000 kronor, an increase in comparison with the corresponding period of 1935 of 47,500,000 kronor. The revenues during December, 1936, were 144,500,000 kronor, against 117,600,000 kronor in December, 1935.

END OF A HAWK

MONROE, Conn.—(INS)—Miss Jennie Burr walked out into her henyard recently and was disturbed at the sight of a gos hawk, rare in this region, devouring one of her chickens. The hawk appeared undisturbed by Miss Burr's intrusion, so the latter walked into her house and returned with a rifle. Taking careful aim she killed the hawk with the first shot. Commenting on her good luck, Miss Burr said, "Well, that one won't bother me any more."

ZEFFERI LEADS HIGH SCHOOL FIVE IN SCORING; ONLY MEMBER OF QUINTET TO CROSS THE CENTURY MARK

By Louis Tomlinson

What, when, how, who, why of the Bristol basketball season just completed may be answered from the following statistics compiled by the high school bureau of statistics released to the public today. What was the season's highest score for a single game by the local five? When did Bristol score the most points in one period? How did the Bunnies rank in scoring with their opponents? Who was the leading scorer for the Cardinals? And why did Bristol have such a great season this year? These are but a few of the many questions that can be answered by glancing at these figures.

First let's answer the questions derived from the word what.

What was the highest score piled up by the Dougherty men in a single contest this season?

This can be answered by glancing at the game between Bristol and Bensalem, both at home and away. It will be immediately discovered that the Bunnies rolled up a total of 41 points in each of these frays. And that was the highest score for a single game.

Since we have found the highest score in one game the question now arises, "What was the lowest score in one game by the Bunnies?"

The game between them and Morrisville at the latter's home court was where this was written in the books. The score was 16-13, and that 16 was Bristol's low score in one game this season, although they were held to 17 points by Fallsington twice and Frenchtown once.

"What was the season's high combination score in one period and what was the lowest combination score for a single quarter?"

Well, the highest single period for the season combined was that of the third in which Bristol marked up 118 points. In one other period, the first, they scored over a hundred by one point when they marked up 101 for the season's total in the initial chapter. The lowest period for the campaign was the final chapter when they marked up 91 points, with the second period two points better. Ninety-three points were chalked up in this frame.

Now, "What was their opponents' high and low scoring period combined for the season?"

Their second frame was their lowest with 56, in the first they hung up only 58 in 16 tilts for an average of less than four per game. Sixty-six tallies in both the third and fourth periods gave them their highest scoring periods.

Still on the questions "what." The next one is, "What was the Cardinal and Gray five's highest and lowest score in one game against them?"

To this we answer, N. J. S. D., in the first instance, when the Mutes beat them 37-27 and 34-22. Naturally these were the highest scores in one game against the Bunnies as they were the only games they lost this season. As to the lowest score, that inglorious honor went to Newtown who could only score a quintet of tallies on the locals' first home game of the season. The score was 22-5.

Next we ask, "What was the worst lacing handed an opponent by the Cardinals?" To which we answer, "Bensalem," in the game at Bristol when the latter piled up a 41-8 score, winning by 33 points.

"What game did Bristol win by a single point?"

The game between the Bunnies and Fallsington at Trenton. The final score read: Bristol, 17; Fallsington, 16.

Leaving the question "What," we turn to our next question, "When." The first question under this heading is "When did the Bunnies score the most points in a single period of one game?"

And the answer is 16, scored against Bensalem at Cornwells, and it happened in the initial canto, the end of which Bristol led, 16-0.

"When did they tally the less points in one period?" This occurred three times, when they failed to score at all in the final frame against Newtown, the first canto against Southampton on the latter's court, and in the second chapter against the same club here.

When was their rivals' highest scoring period in one game? The third in the Upper Moreland game, the last in the home Frenchtown tilt, and the second and fourth in the home game with N. J. S. D., in which 19 points were tallied in each—once in each of the four periods.

The "how" questions are few but here is the first one. "How did the Dougherty boys rate with their opponents in scoring—besides first except in two instances—on the averages. The Bunnies scored nearly two times as many points as their opponents.

and over one and one-half times as many.

Before turning to the "Who" questions let us turn back to the "What" questions again for a moment. "What two games did Bristol hold their opponents to two consecutive scoreless periods, then their rivals held them scoreless in one frame, thus no points were scored in one period by either team?"

Answer: The Newtown game—third and fourth periods, and the Southampton game at Bristol—the second and third periods.

"What was the total points, fouls, foul percentage scored by the locals and ratio of Bristol's and foe's scoring?"

The total points scored by Bristol this year was 401; fouls, 81; foul percentage, 46.0, 81 out of 176, and the ratio between Bristol and opponents was over 1½ to 1 in scoring.

In what game did Bristol and their opposition score the same number of points for three consecutive periods? In the N. J. S. D. game at Trenton, in the second, third and fourth cantos, in which each team scored eight, eight, and six points, respectively. The only difference was that the Mutes tallied an 8-5 ratio against Bristol in the first period.

What was the Cardinals longest winning streak of recent campaigning? It was that of eight straight over the first eight teams, N. J. S. D. was the first team to defeat the locals.

Now let us turn our attention to individual scoring, since we have just seen what the team did. Of course in speaking of individuals we ask "Who" questions.

And in this group, we want to know "Who was the leading scorer on the local five this year?"

This, of course, as most of you no doubt know by now, was Punk Zefferi, who hung up 53 field and 20 foul goals for a total of 126 points. He was the only Cardinal to cross the century mark in this department of the game. His closest team-mate was Charlie Hughes, who came in with 79 tallies, almost 50 less than the leader. Nick Huffnel had 65, and Carnvale 56, to be the only other Bunnies to score more than 50 points—in fact, more than 20 markers.

Nick Huffnel scored the most foul shots, by converting 21 of 40 attempts. Zefferi was next with 20 out of 46, and Hughes with 19 out of 34. Tom Profy and Hughes had the highest foul shooting percentage with .509 for the former and .559 for the latter. Profy sank six out of 10. Huffnel was the only other Cardinal to have a mark of better than .500 in this department of the game, with an average of .525.

Who scored the most points in a single game? Again the honor fell upon Zefferi, who chalked up no less than 22 in the opening tilt of the season, against Upper Moreland. He scored 13 of them in the final chuck.

The Bunnies five leading scorers—Zefferi, 126; Hughes, 79; Huffnel, 65; Carnvale, 56, and Van Lenten, 19—scored no less than 59 more points than their opponents did the entire season. The local quintet of scorers rung up 345 tallies to their opponents 245.

Finally we ask, "Why did Bristol have such a successful season?" And the answer might be found in the fact that they were able to outscore their opponents on the average of almost two to one in their games.

Note: Zefferi was the only man to cross the century mark in scoring. Bristol maintained slightly less than an average of 1½ times as many points per game than their opponents. That the first five highest scorers for the Cardinals tallied exactly 99 more points than their entire opponents put together. That only one Bunny reached as high as 600 in foul shooting with only three over the 500 mark, whereas every man should be able to score two out of three and at least one out of two. The varsity had a mark of 503 but the second team's poor 200 pulled it down.
